PUERTRY.
These antidil-
-uvian rembrandts
from a former age,
the Human Beings, are unbarking once more on one of their tearsome complaints about pain. Also small numbers are collect-
-ing together and d-
-iscursng the pissy--ballities of the existence of such outworn superstiti-

-ons as gripfe, pcelsure, pray-
-sure, sox and (band girls) luh-huh

these quaint grow-

substances are se-

in fungusoid slot

limbs connect wit

mushrooms with nemes like kunst, newsplash and pu-

PIECE OF PUERTRY BY H.B. KEITH MUSGROVE.

Here are you and I
In this sand pile, Blotched,
Red-blistered
By a crazy sun,
Counting sand grains,
Dying for water.

Hear us
A tap drip,
Drips whose noise Distracts &
Fumbles our counting Until we curse loudly
And the people laugh
Who are stood Sun-humbled and staring
There
Crack-gunned
And black-tongued.

Near us,
From tall Trees glare
Huge Hungry birds.
